

Bob and Bobek on the road

Pavel Šrut

The book describes the events of two rabbits, Bob and Bobek. The book is divided into seven stories: Bob and Bobek making mommy and daddy, Bob and Bobek in the wild west, Bob and Bobek save a bear, Bob and Bobek land on the Moon, Bob and Bobek heal an Indian healer, Bob and Bobek on a cruise ship, Bob and Bobek find a friend for the castaway.

I liked the part Bob and Bobek making mommy and daddy the most.

Bob and Bobek flew to the South Pole in a hat. Because they were cold, they made raspberry tea. There were penguins. They played the tag with the penguins. Then one penguin called, "Alarm!" An orca appeared. The penguins ran away. Bob and Bobek discovered the egg. A little penguin hatched from it. Bob and Bobek argued over who would take care of the penguin. Little penguins were also clubbing from other eggs. The penguin screamed: "I'm afraid, I'm afraid! Mom, Mom!" The little penguin's mother swam to them and was happy to find him. Bob and Bobek were surprised that she recognized him. She replied that she recognized her newborn by the shell on his bottom. She thanked Bob and Bobek for looking after her son, and left together to see his father. Bob and Bobek got into the hat. They huddled together to keep from the cold. They said good night and went to sleep.
